

Key Insights

- Women customers contributed a higher percentage of overall sales compared to men, indicating that female customers are the primary target audience for the store.
- The age group between 30–49 years generated the highest number of orders and sales, making it the most valuable customer segment.
- Maharashtra, Karnataka, and Uttar Pradesh were among the top-performing states in terms of sales contribution.
- Amazon generated the highest number of orders compared to other sales channels such as Flipkart and Myntra.
- Most orders were successfully delivered, while cancelled and returned orders represented a smaller percentage of total orders.
- Clothing categories such as ethnic wear and fashion products showed strong customer demand and higher sales performance.
- Monthly sales analysis indicated fluctuations in revenue and order volume, helping identify peak sales periods.
- The dashboard helped identify customer purchasing patterns, top-performing platforms, and regional sales trends through interactive visualizations and charts.